Department of Electronics and Communication in association with ISTE Student Chapter, BNMIT organized an inspirational talk “Waste to Wealth” to encourage the students to conserve energy and environment, on 27th October 2018 at BNMIT. Sri Rajeeva Deekshit, Chief Managing Director, M/s. Pyro Ecogreen Technologies Pvt. Ltd, who is an environmentalist and an entrepreneur, shared his experience with 3rd, 5th, 7th semester students and 3rd M.Tech students of Electronics and Communication Engineering, BNMIT, Bengaluru. The event was organized for students by ISTE coordinators, Dr, Rekha P and Dr. Jyoti R. Munavalli. The event was graced by Dr. P.A. Vijaya, Head of the Department, ECE.

The discussion started with water utility and its waste. The speaker highlighted how to differentiate between need and greed. The speaker incorporated – Appreciate, Respect, Learn, Adopt, Attitude cycle to make students understand the intensity of waste happening around them. The speaker used very interesting videos to demonstrate the concept of waste. The talk was interactive and students participated with enthusiasm.

Further, the speaker introduced the engineering approaches to waste management by giving an example of Pyro Ecogreen Technologies. He spoke about the chemical combinations that would eliminate waste and transform old equipment to new ones. He emphasized how waste conversion would save money as well as environment. With the idea of waste to wealth generation, many get the opportunities to explore the entrepreneur hidden in them. The students should use technology for waste reduction so that they contribute towards their society. The FCD holders of B.Tech and M.Tech students were awarded with mementos on this occasion.

Remarks:

1. The students got an insight about various ways in waste conversion to wealth.
2. The students interacted with the expert and clarified their doubts.

Overall the interaction was beneficial in giving an insight on importance of waste to wealth generation and different ways to do so.
